

Charge: to assess Faculty review (workload) structures/policies in relationship to our Mission/Vision

- Policies that support all faculty
- Seek equity in faculty policies
- Expectation there will be different paths to meet the Mission of the University within Colleges/Departments
- Seek ways to incentivize faculty when meeting the mission of the University
- To move the University forward to meet current and future needs of students, faculty, and community
- KBOR will direct state universities to review their reward structures to ensure they support faculty members' professional success throughout their career (See Taskforce Annual Report)

Policy Recommendations: College Guidelines and Criteria (4.21 / Tenure and Promotion 1B) https://www.wichita.edu/about/policy/ch_04/ch4_21.php

No Recommended changes.

Current policy....It is acceptable to establish differential criteria for tenure and promotion for faculty with different assignments, so long as the differential criteria and the nature of the faculty assignments are clearly identified and recorded on the annual evaluation form.

Policy Recommendations: 4.12 / Teaching Faculty Workload

Delete current language and add:
Faculty work in three areas: student-centered work (e.g., teaching), disciplinary/professional-centered work (e.g., research/scholarship), and community-centered work (e.g., service). Workload refers to total professional effort, which includes the time (and energy) devoted to class preparation, student work, curriculum and program deliberations, scholarship/research, participation in governance activities, and a wide range of community services*. Individualized workload expectations are to be discussed and documented with faculty at least annually.

Each College has incorporated/commented on the Uniscope model within their Tenure and Promotion criteria and these have been approved by the University Tenure and Promotion committee.

Example Overview Boyer Model: College of Fine Arts Criteria document

In "Scholarship Reconsidered" Ernest Boyer introduced an academic model advocating expansion of the traditional definition of scholarship and research: The scholarship of

- discovery that includes original research that advances knowledge;
- integration that involves synthesis of information across disciplines, across topics within a discipline, or across time;
- application that involves the rigor and application of disciplinary expertise with results that can be shared with and/or evaluated by peers;
- engagement that integrates education with community development. Engaged scholarship is a type of education, "that can be directly applied to social problems and issues faced by individuals, local communities, organizations, practitioners, and policymakers;" and
- teaching and learning that the systematic study of teaching and learning processes. It differs from scholarly teaching in that it requires a format that will allow public sharing and the opportunity for application and evaluation by others.
