Introduction

In the School of Performing Arts, the faculty understands outcome goals and objectives to be simply a formal way of describing desired outcomes and specifying the desired results of a learning activity. We consider learning to be a relatively permanent change in student behavior and function. Since producing learning is a complex process that entails the ability to reliably produce particular types of learning in theatre, dance and musical theatre, the teaching and learning processes across the school are deliberately managed. Such process management entails fully articulated statements of intended learning outcomes across all of our majors, that is, what students should know and be able to do as the result of the educational experience (i.e., the curriculum, course or lesson, and performance experience).

Outcome assessment in the School of performing Arts is designed to align obtained results with intended outcome goals and objectives across all three disciplines of theatre, musical theatre and dance. Our outcome assessments in each program compare the actual outcomes produced within each discipline with the desired outcomes of the school itself and is based upon a clear specification of the six main learning outcomes that are intended.

The school follows several guiding principles:

- LINK OBJECTIVES TO STANDARDS FOR YOUR DISCIPLINE. In the School of Performing Arts, six learning outcomes are designed with correlation to national accreditation standards in theatre, dance and musical theatre.
- FIND A WAY TO MAKE ASSESSMENT RELATIVELY EASY TO DO. We use two assessment to measure several things:
  - 1) We assess samples from two "capstone" courses in the Theatre and Musical Theatre programs: THEA 455 Senior Jury and THEA 451 Portfolio Review. These two samples serve as an exit exam in the advanced level of matriculation. The Dance Program assesses samples from only one sample, "Senior Concert," a non-credit, required project for graduation that is conducted in the senior year. Senior Concert includes a written self assessment. The writing sample shows grammar and writing proficiency as well as training in dance. The Musical Theatre Program These results are recorded and placed in each student's file for the eventual development of his/her portfolio. We also record the results in a database.
  - 2) We plan to use an exit survey, which is completed by all SPA majors when they bring their degree audit to our Academic Records Coordinator, Elnora Watson. The signed audit form will not be sent in until the student turns in the survey. (This exit survey will be implemented in Fall 2006).
- GET TRAINING, WHEN NEEDED, TO DO ASSESSMENTS.

  This academic year, the faculty in the School of Performing Arts has held a retreat to discuss assessment principles and methods, as well as to provide extra mentoring in the process on an ongoing basis. Each program faculty met at the end of the spring semester in a day-long retreat to review and discuss the assessments in their program. The Chair has met individually with faculty members to provide any needed reinforcement in practices and procedures. We will seek funding to get new faculty trained during the next academic year, probably from Faculty Development funds.

- TIE THE ASSESSMENT TO IMPROVEMENT IN TEACHING AND LEARNING. In our faculty training sessions and individual conferences, we requested that faculty incorporate specific suggestions from the Chair regarding teaching for proficiency. In fact we have reviewed specific suggestions for classroom activities. Our end-of-the-year retreats entail an examination of our criteria, reports on the assessment of the major, and plans to correct any deficiencies we detect.
- DECIDE WHO WILL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR EACH PART OF THE ASSESSMENT. In our assessment plan, the Program Directors will report results to their faculty, who then will analyze the data and report their findings to the Chair. We have a standing Committee on Assessment, comprised of the whole faculty and staff. The College of Fine Arts Dean's office beginning this year, requires that each School turn in a data collection form and a narrative on any assessments done that academic year. It is due in early May.

Assessment and Measurement

Direct Measures: (check this for accuracy)

We assess samples from two "capstone" experience rubrics: Senior Jury for theatre and musical theatre performance majors at the end of each semester; Senior Portfolio for all majors each year in the spring. The instruments themselves are constructed to reflect the disciplinary language of each academic program. These results are given to the student and a copy is placed in each student's file.

Interviews are conducted in the Theatre concentrations by the theatre faculty at the end of each semester. Students assess themselves and receive feedback from the faculty during their interview session.

Each program holds an assessment retreat at the end of each year to discuss improvement in teaching and learning. At these retreats, each faculty group examines the assessment criteria in light of the School of Performing Arts' learning outcomes. They identify needed faculty knowledge and skills that are needed to support the curriculum. They decide which practices need to be modified or changed, based upon how accurately the assessment rubrics reflect what is taught.

ASSESSMENT PLAN

The School of Performing Arts administers academic programs for majors in Theatre, Dance, and Musical Theatre. Theatre majors may choose between the Bachelor of Arts in Theatre and the Bachelor of Fine Arts in Performing Arts/Theatre. BFA Theatre majors will select concentrations in Performance or Design and Technical Theatre. Students concentrating in Theatre Performance will focus on the theories and practices of stage acting and directing. Design and Technical Theatre students will focus on design and technical aspects of production. BFA Dance majors will focus on modern dance technique with strong supportive classes in ballet and jazz techniques. BFA Musical Theatre majors will study singing, acting and dancing in an interdisciplinary context. A general minor in Theatre or Dance is also available to students majoring in areas outside of those programs. In Fall 2006, the BFA in Performing Arts Theatre concentration will implement a Secondary Licensure in Speech and Theatre concentration.

SCHOOL OF PERFORMING ARTS MISSION

Students pursuing a Theatre, Dance or Musical Theatre degree in the School of Performing Arts will develop knowledge, techniques and collaborative skills conducive to a lifetime of independent learning and creativity.

SCHOOL GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

- Through classroom study and production/performance experiences, students will be prepared to work in the professional arena, study further in graduate programs, and/or pursue careers in teaching.
- 2. Students seeking a liberal arts education in theatre will obtain a broad practical and theoretical knowledge of theatre through instruction and production/performance opportunities.
- 3. Faculty and students will engage in the discovery and development of new information and the refinement of existing knowledge through original, creative, experimental, and scholarly work.
- 4. The School engages and enriches the campus community, the Greater Wichita area, and the surrounding thirteen county areas, through numerous performances of theatre, dance and musical theatre each year.

SCHOOL-LEVEL LEARNER OUTCOMES

- 1. Critical Thinking: Students completing a degree program in theatre, dance or musical theatre will have completed projects that synthesize artistic concepts into actual bodies of work, illustrating critical thinking skills.
- 2. Communication Skills: Students completing a degree program in theatre, dance or musical theatre will be able to express information cogently, completely, and concisely in both written and oral form.
- 3. Knowledge of the Discipline: Students completing a degree program in theatre, dance or musical theatre will have knowledge of the general practices and major components of the arts discipline. Specifically, this knowledge will be demonstrated by an understanding of the art form's history, theory, criticism, literature, fundamental skill areas, production principles and interdisciplinary collaboration.
- 4. Career Preparation: Students completing a degree program in theatre, dance or musical theatre will acquire a foundation for a career as a graduate student, public school teacher, professional artist, or a professional in an allied field.

- 5. Performance Experience: Students completing a degree program in theatre, dance or musical theatre will participate in the production of plays, musicals or dance concerts as well as classroom performances and practicum assignments. This opportunity for experiential learning will require the demonstration and application of knowledge of both the art and the craft of the disciplinary concentration.
- 6. Creative Development: Students completing a degree program in theatre, dance or musical theatre will develop and communicate a sense of their own creative process, individual style and personal aesthetic.

ASSESSMENT OF SCHOOL GOALS

In accordance with its mission statement, the School of Performing Arts has established appropriate measures to assess the School's success in achieving its goals and objectives through its Theatre, Dance, and Music Theatre programs.

Accreditation Reviews and Annual HEADS Reports

WSU is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Dance and the National Association of Schools of Music. The School of Performing Arts Dance Program reviews were conducted in 1997 and 2003. The next review is scheduled for 2012-2013. The Musical Theatre Program reviews were conducted by the School of Music. The Theatre Program is currently positioning itself for future accreditation by the National Association of Schools of Theatre. In each case, program success will be evaluated with consideration of accreditation standards and data compiled in HEADS reports.

Annual Faculty Review

The Chair of the School of Performing Arts reviews each faculty member's goals and record of accomplishment in January for the previous calendar year. Evaluation criteria include teaching, creative/scholarly activity, and service that supports student learning. On the basis of this assessment, faculty members and the Chair collaboratively consider and design new goals according to a matrix of responsibilities for the current calendar year.

Local, State, Regional and National Festival Adjudications and Professional Development

Student and faculty participation at discipline-specific festivals and competitions, such as the American College Dance Festival and the Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival, provides feedback and evaluation in areas of performance, production and choreography by experts, scholars and professional adjudicators. The success of our students and faculty is measured by their creativity and artistry, the number of peer-reviewed scholarly activities in which they engage annually, and by their honors and awards.

Placement

Placement of graduates from the school in professional companies, internships, and graduate programs is considered in the assessment of school goals.

ASSESSMENT OF LEARNER OUTCOMES

Direct Measures:

1. Performance: In order to fulfill requirements for any Bachelor of Fine Arts degree program involving performance in the School of Performing Arts (Dance, Musical Theatre and Theatre), majors are required to prepare and perform a Senior Jury project in which they present representative material from their major discipline, such as contemporary and classical monologues, scene work, choreography, dance selections, and/or musical theatre selections. These performances are performed live for the performance faculty of the program and peers, and many are video taped each year. Jury performances are followed by critical feedback sessions and written responses from the appropriate faculty according to an established set of performance criteria in each program (Attachment A – Senior Jury Assessment). Bachelor of Arts in Theatre majors are not required to present a Senior Jury project. Learning Objectives: 1. Critical Thinking, 2. Communication Skills, 3. Knowledge of the Discipline, 4. Career Preparation, 5. Performance Experience, 6. Creative Development.

- 2. Laboratory Engagement: Inherent in the performance of theatre, musical theatre, and dance is a complex organizational system that includes artistic decisions, technical direction, production elements, management concerns, publicity, promotions, and the audience community. Through direct participation in laboratory experiences associated with coursework in performance, design/technical theatre, and production, students are assessed by faculty, designers, and shop supervisors in consultation with each other. Assessment may be the direct result of demonstrated evidence of responsibility to laboratory assignments in addition to methods of evaluation inherent in associated coursework. Learning Objectives: 1. Critical Thinking, 2. Communication Skills, 3. Knowledge of the Discipline, 4. Career Preparation, 5. Performance Experience, 6. Creative Development.
- 3. Senior Portfolio: In conjunction with regular performances, training in each of the programs of the school culminates in the compilation of a discipline-specific portfolio (classroom projects, realized production projects in the School's Main Stage or Second Stage venues, resume, headshot, production photos, design, construction, technical plots and renderings, choreography, stage management, self-evaluations, etc.) suitable for job and/or graduate school applications. Through these portfolio projects, students are able to maintain an accurate record of their experiences and display their readiness for advanced study or work in a professional context. The review of senior portfolios by the faculty in each program serves to assess the student's representation of his or her history while at WSU. Oral feedback is given for all areas of the portfolio with assessment of individual projects, and the whole, based on a standard set of criteria (Attachment B– Portfolio Assessment). Learning Objectives: 1. Critical Thinking, 2. Communication Skills, 3. Knowledge of the Discipline, 4. Career Preparation, 5. Performance Experience, 6. Creative Development.

Indirect Measure:

1. Alumni Survey: (Attachment C – WSU School of Performing Arts Alumni Survey). Learning Objectives: 1. Critical Thinking, 2. Communication Skills, 3. Knowledge of the Discipline, 4. Career Preparation, 5. Performance Experience, 6. Creative Development.

RESULTS

The School Assessment Committee (a committee of the whole) plans to review assessment plans of the school and data collected yearly in an attempt to answer the following questions:

- Question 1: How are our students performing with regard to the school's stated learning objectives and what do the results imply about our school? A: If the majority of our students are meeting a large portion of our objectives, scoring mostly 3 and 4's on our rubrics, then we continue to teach as before. If students are receiving mostly 1 and 2's, we will re-analyze our teaching methodology and rubrics across the school in order for the students to start receiving 3's and 4's.
- Question 2: How effective is our current assessment plan and what changes, if needed, in our academic programs and our assessment plan will guarantee better outcomes for the students? A: If the majority of the students are receiving 3's and 4', then we continue as before, but if not, we re-think and re-do our assessment plan. School faculty committee will also meet with the chairperson to formulate a plan for change within our academic programs.
- Question 3: How effective is the current assessment plan for the school? Does each program need to be more involved in assessing outcomes in their specific areas?
- Q1.: Since the programs within the school have not maintained formal data or annual tracking on learning outcomes, we plan to implement program assessments across the school in fall 2005. These assessment plans will enable the faculty to gain a comprehensive sense of the extent to which our students are achieving the school's learning objectives. A copy of each student's assessment will be kept in their file. We will convene an assessment meeting of the faculty annually for the school-level assessment.

We plan to conduct Exit Interviews with all graduates, starting in fall 2005, and to begin tracking graduates annually to identify where they go, where they work, and their employment opportunities. We plan to post the SPA Alumni Survey on the web site in fall 2005 and to add a link especially for an alumni listserve.

The school will conduct a Cohort Study and a Peer Analysis for each program in collaboration with the Office of Institutional Research, starting in fall 2005.

FEEDBACK LOOP

The faculty currently provides oral critiques for all direct measures of learning outcomes. We have designed assessment tools (attached) which we plan to implement in fall 2005. Students will receive hardcopy letters with the assessments attached. Copies of the assessments will be kept in each student's file.

WICHITA STATE UNIVERSITY School of Performing Arts

Theatre, Dance and Musical Theatre Alumni Survey

This alumni survey is to determine whether or not our students are properly prepared to earn a living in the professional field of theatre, dance and Musical Theatre and confirm the usefulness of our rubrics.

Academic programs at Wichita State University are required to assess the effectiveness of their instructional activities on a regular basis. The Alumni Survey is one element of the School's overall assessment plan. The intention of this survey is to learn what your perceptions are regarding the quality of your educational experiences during your tenure with the WSU Theatre, Dance or Musical Theatre programs of the school.

Please do not write your name on this survey – your responses will remain anonymous. Responses provided by you and other alumni will be compiled, and a cumulative report will be generated. Copies of this report can be made available at your request.

Please take a few moments to complete this survey and return it to the WSU School of Performing Arts in the reply envelope provided.
